

Experts join summit

INNER-CITY property specialist, Bees Nees City Realty, will host its own 2020 Summit, focusing on the local property market, on May 19.

Industry experts Michael Matusik of Matusik Property Insights and Andrew Crawford of Wolter Consulting Group will look specifically at the future of West End, South Brisbane and Highgate Hill.

Each suburb was recently tagged by BRW magazine as “the star performer of Australia’s urban renewal precincts”.

Bees Nees managing director Rob Honeycombe said the seminar would be a preview of what to expect from the property market in 2020.

“Our industry experts will present their views on the local market and likely trends in property prices, rents and housing styles,” Mr Honeycombe said.

“Both speakers are well respected in the industry and are sure to have varying perspectives and opinions on the future.”
