

Sweet property success

BUZZING ALONG
WORDS: LUKE ROYES

INNER-BRISBANE'S Bees Nees City Realty has been named one of Australia's 100 fastest growing start-up companies.

The South Brisbane-based real estate agency offers residential sales and property management services to clients in the inner city.

Managing director Rob Honeycombe said his hard-working, quality team were thrilled with the listing.

"It's a comment that the inner city has been going strong since we first started about four years ago," Mr Honeycombe said.

"It's recognition of the hard work done by the team."

The BRW Fast Starters are richer, faster growing and have higher turnover and more confidence about their success than ever before.

To be eligible for the BRW Fast Starters list the business must have started trading after June 30, 2005.

They must also have reported at least two fiscal years of revenue more than $500,000 in 2008-09 and revenue for 2008-09 must be more than 2007-08.
