Anthony, who worked for Wright Property when last operating in the Brisbane industrial market, has spent the past year working in the mining sector.

At Chesterton he will focus specifically on the southern fringe industrial market.

RAY White Surfers Paradise Group has decided the best way to continue growing its business is to split it up.

The group has decided to extend its industrial division to operate as a sole subdivision alongside the residential and commercial sectors.

Joint managing director Greg Bell said this would allow the industrial division to service areas throughout southeast Queensland.

AWARD season is starting early this year with preparations already under way for the 2007 Real Estate Institute of Queensland (REIQ) Awards for Excellence in February.

LJ Hooker has appointed some new recruits. Andrew Purchas will service and expand I Hooker Commercial Northside operations, while Tony Mayfield as property consultant will focus on Australia TradeCoast.
