South Brisbane Property Update

Sales Market

Time to sell shrinks with shortage of listings

Sales Overview

The pandemic is having some impact on buyer confidence but our experience is there's still strong demand for local property. Interestingly the "average days on market", or time it takes to sell a South Brisbane apartment, has dropped to 42 days after been as high as 89 during last year.

There are just 2 houses for sale in total at the time of writing. Yes two, in a suburb of 386 houses! Houses in the sub $1m range are especially meeting strong demand. It's now common to see multiple offers and strong price results for well-promoted property. Similarly there's a broad range of buyers searching South Brisbane apartments, often couples in their 20s to early 30s who want to be walking distance to dining/bars as well as an easy walk to their workplace. COVID-19 or not, interest in local real estate continues and when there's more available for sale the turnover graph will rise.

"Trust Experience. Having recently sold a property in Inner Brisbane I have to stress how important it is to have the backing of such a considerate, thoughtful and experienced Real Estate professional. Not everything went smoothly or easily however with the support and guidance of Rebecca we achieved the best market rate available."

Rental Market

Vacancies spread with virus; local rents dip

Rental Overview

After a strong start to 2020, Coronavirus well and truly infected the local rental market over the June quarter. The record median rent of $540/week dropped to $500, back to levels last seen in 2018. The Queensland border closure made its mark across inner-Brisbane as short stay and AirBNB apartments flooded into the rental market and vacancies grew daily.

Despite talk of mass ‘downsizing’ and tenants moving back in with family etc, we’ve not witnessed that in our agency. Rent adjustments have been negotiated for a small number of tenants but generally demand dipped only temporarily. By late July we were back to 50+ new tenant enquiries into our leasing team every day. Rents now appear to have flattened and we’d expect little change until interstate travel is back to some kind of normal.

Note: RTA stats quoted here cover all of postcode 4101 including Highgate Hill and West End.
